POLITICAL MATTERS.

The Anti-Monopolists of New York Endorse the Democratic Ticket.

The Machines of Both Parties Beginning to Grind in Chicago.

George William Curtis Writes on Folger and Reform.

New York Papers. With Few Exceptions, Opposed to Folger.

Conventions, Nominations and Elections.

New York Anti-Monopolists Special Dispatch to This Box.

ALBANY, October 4.—The state committee of the anti-monopoly party endorsed, unreservedly, Mr. Hepburn, republican, for congressmen-at-large. He having declined, the entire democratic ticket was endorsed. In the address to the people, it is claimed: "The anti-monopolists recognize the rights of capital as well as labor. We appreciate the benefits which corporate organization has conferred upon the human race. We will labor as steadily to maintain the rights of corporations as to enforce observance of their duties, but the time has come when the people must organize and work to counteract the malign influence which has become so potent in all political parties, and oblige these parties to live up to their professions and restrain the power for evil wielded by a few unscrupulous men, who have obtained control of the great forces of the century, and who, in their use, recognize no principles of action but personal or corporate aggrandizement. Samuel F. Cary was among the speakers at the mass meeting to-night.

Chicago Politics Special Dispatch to This Box.

CHICAGO, October 3.—The democratic state central committee is in session here this afternoon, and has decided to make a push for the control of the next state legislature by nominating two out of every three representatives in districts where heretofore, under the minority representation, they had been content to elect one, and in democratic districts to nominate a full representation. The republican primaries of the First district, South Division of Chicago, and adjoining towns, were held this afternoon, and indicate the re-nomination of Wm. Aldrich.

Curtis on Folger Special Dispatch to This Box.

NEW YORK, October 3.—George William Curtis, in a letter to the secretary of the New York civil service association, says: Judge Folger's ability and character are not in question, but his nomination is. That nomination was procured by the combined power of fraud and patronage, and to support it at the polls would be to acquiesce in fraud and patronage as legitimate forces in nominating conventions. Every good citizen is bound to resist to the utmost such wrong to free institutions and the only effectual way in which voters can emancipate themselves from the corrupt and debasing rule of the machine is to defeat its candidates. I believe it will be done decisively by the republicans of New York and Pennsylvania at the election this autumn. They would see their party defeated rather than fraud and corruption of patronage triumphant. Events in both states show no graver political peril now confronts the country than complete subjugation of the party by unscrupulous cabals who bribe with public employment and pay their way by filching from the public treasury. This is an evil which will end in violence unless conclusively rebuked by the people at the polls.

Comments Upon Folger's Letter. Special Dispatch to This Box.

NEW YORK, October 4.—The Times says: Unfortunately not even his (Folger's) great ability, high character, good intentions nor even reasonable assurance to make an excellent governor, in spite of the influences that have been enlisted in his behalf, his candidacy cannot suffice to meet the one chief objection of those who are dissatisfied. That is fixed beyond recall in the records of the past. It is not in his power to wipe it out. The republicans of this State were not permitted by untrammeled choice, by free exercise of elected power, honestly and fairly executed, to nominate their own candidate for governor, and many of them feel the principle they vindicate even more important for the time being than the excellent ideas of State and national policy which are urged in the letter of acceptance.

The Evening Post says: Judge Folger's letter of acceptance is not a cheerful or inspiring document. It could not well be under existing circumstances. A man who feels himself obliged to make an elaborate apology to the people for being a candidate, and who virtually asks them for suspension of judgment as to the conscientiousness of his conduct in accepting the nomination, cannot be expected to be quite free from certain depression of spirit when speaking to the public. It is the men, circumstances and influences surrounding him that make his election unacceptable to a large element in the republican party. The confession of his personal feelings with regard to his candidacy, therefore, are rather calculated to strengthen than weaken their objections to him.

The Commercial Advertiser says: Nothing can be said here that would add to the strength of Mr. Folger's statement. His dignity, frankness, sincerity and devotion to republican principles speak for themselves. The duty of republicans is plain. Elect the ticket, and elect it for reasons which have been so forcibly stated in the letter of acceptance. There can be no turning back or aside. The field is before the republicans, and they will be untrue to themselves and to their great party if they do not win it.

The Evening Telegram says: Folger is probably wrong in his estimate of the damage which the party would incur by rightful declaration of this nomination. He is evidently wrong in imagining his party can be benefited by his assenting to the consummation of an acknowledged wrong.

The Mail and Express says: As might have been expected of so brave and honest a man, he faces without fear and handles without gloves the convention frauds that have become so dishonestly manipulated and misrepresented in the interests of general calumny and chaos. In the terse and masculine style that so fitly comes from a man utterly devoid of the cowardices that always belong to the weak and ineffectual pretenders, he reviews calmly the history of the frauds that only affected a single matter, the recommendation of the state committee as to the temporary chairman, and that did not affect a single vote in the convention, even on the preliminary skirmish in its proceedings.

The Brooklyn Eagle says: Mr. Folger's letter accepting the so-called republican nomination is one of the most extraordinary documents in our political literature. Never before has it, to the Eagle's knowledge, been deemed necessary by a candidate for a great office to present himself as an apologist for acknowledged fraud in the convention which submitted his name to the people, and beg the voters to believe that, while forced by circumstances to figure as a representative of such a body, he had no hand in debauching its character. The turn of affairs imposes upon democrats exceptional responsibility. It is their highest duty now to so behave in their nominating conventions, and later on in the management of the state, as to give no republican cause to regret the spirit with which he struck down wrong-doers in his own party.

The Brooklyn Union-Argus says: The letter in which Judge Folger accepts the republican nomination for governor is a mainly, honest and plain-spoken declaration of his position in relation to the republican party and to the convention by which he was nominated and to the principles as embodied in the platform of the convention. Republicans and all who desire an economical, honest and vigorous administration will find in Judge Folger's letter many reasons to make them satisfied with his nomination and promote his election.

The Brooklyn Times says: Judge Folger occupied a column or more which, devoted to an apology for not declining, is a sorry and discouraging prelude to his statement of principles. Accompanying the letter of declaration from Mr. Hepburn is an additional plaintive strain in the old dirge over stalwart method and mismanagement and the fatal policy of an administration that will live in history as having marked the "rule and ruin" era on the records of the republican party.

Hepburn's Letter.

NEW YORK, October 3.—A. B. Hepburn, nominated by the recent republican convention, held at Saratoga, for the office of congressman-at-large, writes as follows:

NEW YORK, October 2.—Hon. John F. Smyth, Chairman Republican State Central Committee: DEAR SIR:—Having received no formal notice of my nomination for the office of congressman-at-large by the recent republican convention, I address this communication to you. It is quite apparent that owing to unfortunate circumstances that have come to light since the adjournment of the convention a very large portion of the republicans of the state are not disposed to accept its conclusions as the authoritative utterance of the party. Nothing should be left undone to secure unity and harmony in the party, and I do not think it right to enter upon the canvass without an earnest effort in that direction. It seems to me that for the purpose attaining such result all questions should be submitted anew to representatives of the party, assembled for such purpose and in the furtherance of that object. While fully appreciating the very high compliment paid me by the convention, and returning my sincere thanks for the same, I deem it my duty to acquaint you with my declaration of said nomination.

Very respectfully yours,

A. B. HEPBURN.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Gladstone Thanks God and the Troops for Success in Egypt.

The Khedive's Influence Below Par With the Masses of Arabs

The Great Need of an Informer in Ireland. Henry George Talks in Cork

General Items From Other Kingdoms.

THE ENGLISH IN EGYPT. Special Dispatch to This Box.

TAX SHIRKERS. CAIRO, October 3.—Baker Pasha thinks the European inhabitants, who now contribute nothing to municipal taxes, should pay their share of local taxes.

General Wolsey will probably arrive in London on the 23d inst. The Khedive will decorate the colonel and three other officers of each British regiment that aided in the suppression of the rebellion.

PREPARING FOR THE TRIALS. CAIRO, October 3.—A separate building is being fitted up for the reception of prisoners to be tried by the court-martial, including Arabi Pasha and Toubia Pasha. The court will sit on the same premises as that in which the prisoners are confined in order to obviate the necessity of conveying them to and fro. The lower classes fail to realize the defeat of Arabi Pasha and the national cause. Among the commercial section and middle classes better feeling prevails. In influential native circles it is not expected that respect for the Khedive can be restored.

CAIRO ITEMS.

CAIRO, October 3.—The Khedive conferred the grand order of the Order of Medjidit on General Ady. Two batteries of artillery have started for Europe.

Five hundred refugees, mostly Greeks, have returned to Alexandria.

A SPEECH BY GLADSTONE. LONDON, October 3.—Gladstone, replying to an address at a railway station to-day, referred to the question of procedure in the commons. He said the house could not meet the tremendous case on its energies unless it could shake off all timidity and fear of cant phrases, and set itself resolutely to the task of bringing procedure into harmony with the calls on it.

Referring to Egyptian affairs, he said he thanked God for the success of the British in Egypt; he thanked the army there and its skillful general. The war had been provoked. The army was composed of men as brave as their forefathers everywhere. The war had been carried out from love of peace and the principles of peace. Gladstone trusted Egypt would again be prosperous and happy. His remarks were received with prolonged cheers.

REORGANIZING THE ARMY.

CAIRO, October 3.—Baker Pasha has presented to the Khedive a scheme for the reorganization of the Egyptian army, a portion of which shall consist of gen d'armie, which will probably be recruited from Albanians. The scheme provides for the formation of a municipal police for towns, to be drawn from the most trustworthy native elements.

HANQUETTING THE BRITISH.

CAIRO, October 3.—The Khedive will give a banquet to-night to the British officers here.

DECORATED.

The Duke of Teck has received the decoration of the order of Osmanieh.

TRYING ARABI.

Two courts are to be constituted to try Arabi Pasha and other special tribunals to deliver judgment. A private examination of Arabi Pasha was held to-day. The regular trial begins to-morrow.

MORE RIOTING AT CAIRO.

ALEXANDRIA, October 3.—While the arrival of the Khedive at Cairo was being celebrated by illuminations at Assiout a thousand Muselmans attacked the Copts and threatened to kill all Christians in the town. The mudir interfered and quelled the riots.

TRYING THE REBELS.

ALEXANDRIA, October 3.—A number of prisoners, including Niret, Arabi Pasha's European adviser, arrived here from Cairo for trial.

MEALS OF HONOR.

LONDON, October 3.—It has been decided to bring a number of non-commissioned officers of the Indian regiments from Egypt to England so that the queen may present them with war medals.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

PARIS, October 3.—The Figaro publishes a report that the pope while walking in the gardens of the vatican, was fired at by a soldier, but not hit. The report has not been confirmed, and is discredited at the Italian embassy in London.

GLADSTONE BETTER.

LONDON, October 3.—Gladstone is better. He dined yesterday, notwithstanding the wet weather, and visited the quaries in the neighborhood of Penmaen Mawr.

ARRESTED FOR TREASON.

DUBLIN, October 3.—Ten men were arrested near Cross Maaglen for treason and felony, and committed for trial.

WILL NOT ROW.

HALIFAX, October 2.—Friends of Conley say he will not row Ross in St. John. He is willing to row in any neutral water.

ANOTHER IRISH MURDER.

DUBLIN, October 3.—A farmer was murdered last night near Boyne county, Roscommon. The crime undoubtedly is agrarian. Several arrests have been made.

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC.

THE HAGUE, October 3.—Cholera is epidemic in Katta Radja, Borneo, and in Acheh, Sumatra.

THE FIRE AT ENNEKILLEN.

LONDON, October 3.—The fire in the castle at the military barracks at Ennekillen has been extinguished.

THE GREEKS PREPARING.

ATHENS, October 3.—The government, in anticipation of possible renewal of complications with Turkey in regard to the frontier, has ordered Greek troops on the Thessalian border reinforced.

A PERSECUTED PEOPLE.

PRESSBURG, October 3.—Six hundred Jewish families left this city on account of riots.

POLAR DIFFICULTIES.

HAMMENFEST, October 3.—The steamer Louise returned from the Kara sea. She reports hard frost and accumulated ice prevent passage. She left the Danish exploring vessel September 22, ice bound, 80 miles east of Vaigat Island. All well. They hoped shortly to be free.

SOUTH AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

PANAMA, September 24.—Long-continued drought has ruined the governments and rebels of Central America, and now a dangerous fever rages along the coast, which adds to the suffering and terror of the people.

Choluteca, Honduras, is being decimated. Near Izalo, the San Salvador volcano, continues to erupt, but no other outbreak is known at present. At 3:35 a. m. a slight earthquake shock was felt in Lima and other parts of Peru.

The Chilean government has completed arrangement for selling the Peruvian nitrate deposits at public auction.

News comes from Peru of the death of Dr. George A. Ward, at Cerro de Pisco. Dr. Ward served as surgeon during the American war, and for many years held a professorship at Yale college. When the late Henry Meigs began construction of Peruvian railways Dr. Ward was called to Peru and given medical superintendence of Matenco, and Ari Quipa, and other works.

Logan, United States minister to Chili, and family, arrived at Valparaiso August 30th. Gen. Maney, late United States minister to Bogota, is in Panama on his way to Lapas, Bolivia, to release General Adams.

A DEAD LEADER.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 3.—The Russian Courier says Tian Chu, the leader in the Dungan rebellion against the Chinese, is dead.

GEORGE IN IRELAND.

CORK, October 3.—Henry George, in a speech here to-day, urged the nationalization of land as the only solution of the land question, not only in Ireland but in the United States, where he said he saw the land question coming to the front. George has not lately been subjected to espionage.

AGRARIAN CRIME.

DUBLIN, October 3.—Thos. Browne, a farmer residing in Castleland, County Kerry, was shot dead near his own house to-day. Agrarian crime.

THE PHOENIX PARK ASSASSIN.

DUBLIN, October 3.—The police believe the murderers of Lord Frederick Cavendish and Under Secretary Burke numbered ten, and are still in Ireland, but that unless the aid of an informer can be secured the crime cannot be brought home to the guilty persons. The weapons used in commission of the murders were found some weeks ago.

A DEAD AUTHOR.

PARIS, October 3.—Cloud Antoire Jules Novias, French writer, is dead.

Railroad Accident. Special Dispatch to This Box.

NEW ORLEANS, October 3.—A Pinyune Chattahoochee special says concerning the accident on the Memphis & Charleston road near Decatur: The train was moving at a rapid rate when the sleeper and a first-class coach were thrown from the track by a broken rail and sent rolling down the embankment fifty feet high. The sleeper rolled over twice and the coach three times. There were twenty-two passengers in the two cars. All except five were more or less seriously injured. The sleeping car conductor, Bingham, was taken through the city to-night en route to Lynchburg. His death is inevitable.

The Tariff Commission. Special Dispatch to This Box.

NEW YORK, October 2.—The tariff commission resumed its labors in this city. J. S. Moore read a long review of tariff legislation and then quoted and commented upon six distinct principles laid down by Robert J. Walker when secretary of the treasury. Moore in concluding his statement submitted a proposed revision of the tariff.

James Wolfenden, a Jersey City machinist and engineer, read a statement in relation to the tariff on tin plate and its ingredients, urging increase of duty. Adjourned till to-morrow.

Another Line of Ocean Steamers. Special Dispatch to This Box.

BALTIMORE, October 3.—The General Transatlantic company of France start Wednesday the first ship to ply regularly between Havre and Baltimore.

Blaine Sick. Special Dispatch to This Box.

PORTSMOUTH, Neb., October 3.—James G. Blaine, stopping at York Beach, is reported very ill yesterday and day before, but more comfortable last night.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., October 4.—1:40 a. m.—Ex-Secretary Blaine was taken down with fever, which he said was malaria, upon his return to the city, Friday last. Saturday a physician was summoned, and Sunday another was called in. Sunday night the crisis was passed and he has been steadily improving since. To-night he telegraphed Mrs. Blaine he expects to reach home this week.
